

our 3-designer challenge

Jennifer Gallacher, Emily Pitts, and Sheri Reguly were provided the same six products. Here are their unique and inspiring results.

As the following impressive products prove, you don't need an entire room full of supplies to make something amazing. With little more than the following six elements, our trio of talented scrapbookers turned out shining results.

Jennifer Gallacher

Since this issue's challenge didn't provide a great deal of embellishment options,

Jennifer took to her scissors and created her own "die cuts." She fussy cut the globe, pencil, labels, and books from the journaling card patterned paper in this collection—brilliant!

tip: Punched and torn paper strips can take a basic design to the head of the class by adding texture and a decorative edge to pieces that would otherwise be straight and narrow.

school day

Emily Pitts

For a fun twist on this already cute pencil journaling card, Emily cut around the pencil shape and popped it up with foam adhesive. Using 3D adhesive is a quick way to give any flat element added emphasis and prominence.

tip: The vintage-inspired flashcards and blackboard motif immediately took Emily back to her grade school days. If products ever remind you of your youth, seize the day and take the opportunity to tell your own stories of days gone by. Your family will be glad you did.

when I was in third grade additional supplies PEN: Uniball; ADHESIVE: Scrapbook Adhesives by 3L.

Sheri Reguly

Seeking an embellishment option that would add some texture, Sheri took a DIY approach. She covered wood veneer pieces with the washi tape strips to create flower centers and cut leaves from the burlap trim to complete her bloom. An A+ in agriculture and creativity go to this girl!

tip: Journaling cards often include inspiring sentiments. If you don't have the space for a full 6 x 4 journaling card, simply trim the statement in strips and adhere them to the page.

back to class
