takes 2 & 3

We asked three talented designers to each create a layout for cover consideration. Since we loved ALL of the results, we've reserved this space to share what everyone came up with. Take a look at how one title/photo/journaling grouping can be used to create three very unique (and fantastic!) outcomes.

Kelly's cover take is filled with homemade happiness with her pretty patterned paper hearts accented with buttons and floss. We love this soft colour palette perfect for winter AND Valentine's Day! The mint green patterned paper in the top right expertly draws the eye to the photo and the handwritten look of the word love.

Valentine red and cool winter blues paired with snowflakes make for an eye-catching take on the cover in this sweet layout from Tegan! The patterned paper around the perimeter furthers her wintry theme while also pairing well with our cover cutie's sweater. We love the hanging hearts on beribboned "strings" and the stars that accent the sparkle in her eyes. It's a handmade masterpiece!

from the editor

I'm old enough to remember the winter of 1978, and it was a monumental one in my home state of Michigan.

There was an epic blizzard that paralyzed large portions of the Midwest with record snowfall, but as a nine-year-old, I loved nothing more than scaling massive snowbanks and missing tons of school. These days, my favourite thing about winter is wearing colourful coats and spending cozy evenings by the fire.

Get ready for an issue full of snowy inspiration and cozy celebrations! Let's take a look at some of the things you'll find in the winter 2018 edition of Scrapbook & Cards Today:

If you're searching for ideas for your Christmas card designs, look no further than PageMaps (pg. 29) and Creative Cards (pg. 51)! Whether you're looking for mass-producible cards or unique and special designs for the extra-special people in your life, you'll come away inspired—guaranteed!

Jenn Shurkus joins us for Product Play (pg. 34) in this issue, and you'll be delighted by her clever ways to use Distress Oxides and Distress Inks. No need to be timid—Jenn will show you so many fun things to do with Distress Inks that you may or may not need to stock up on a veritable rainbow of colours!

In Make it Mini (pg. 58), Layle Koncar shares the absolute CUTEST resolutions mini album that will get you inspired and make you accountable all at once!

Our Inspiration Gallery (pg. 61) is filled with fantastic reader-submitted projects that you will adore. Not gonna lie, it was really hard to choose!

Grab a glass of eggnog and settle into your favourite easy chair! It's time to enjoy the festive winter 2018 issue of Scrapbook & Cards Today!

Paige Evans, Sheri Reguly, and Wendy Sue Anderson were provided with the same four products and challenged to create a layout.

With a little bit of creativity, even the smallest stash of supplies can produce something spectacular. Check out how each designer used her ingenuity to create a beautiful layout.

PAIGE'S DESIGN TIPS: Fussy cutting and stitching!

- Create easy and cost-effective division in your layout with simple stitched lines.
- Fussy cut large florals for HUGE impact!
- Use premade tabs to add the date with a date stamp.
- Convert your photos to black and white to let the emotions shine.

WENDY'S DESIGN TIPS:

Gather, layer, stitch!

- Gather goodies around the focal photo to draw the eye to the heart of your layout.
- Layer die cut shapes for custom embellishments and add twine for dimension and texture.
- Stitch along the perimeter of your layout to give it a finished look.

pocket play

Short on time? Here you'll find creative ideas to make the most of your pocket pages. BY JESS FORSTER

When it comes to pocket pages, I love that there are multiple ways to use them!

From incorporating divided page protectors into different creative projects to selecting various layout sizes, I feel as though the opportunities to document my memories are endless.

TIPS

POCKET TIP #1: Tell more than one story per page.

Here I grouped similar stories together on the same page—one highlighting the tradition of my daughter decorating a tree at my parents' house and the second recording how long my parents take to decorate the inside and outside of their house.

POCKET TIP #2: Group photos of a similar colour together.

I often look for similar colours and elements when snapping photos. My group of six 2 x 2 photos include a green wreath, stacks of wood, and table—all have green, white, and grey. Grouping them together in such a way provides visual consistency to the viewer.

During the month of December, I participate in the December Daily project created by Ali Edwards. The project, which documents 25 days leading up to Christmas, was created to highlight the spirit of December via one story per day. In an effort to keep things simple, I often document 25 stories from the entire season which I find is the easiest approach for getting my stories told. In this 6 x 8 double-pocket page layout, I tell two smaller stories about holiday décor and traditions at my parents' house.

holiday traditions

Document daily life. When I'm not participating in a specific themed project, I like to document daily life with my kids. Instead of capturing the basis of what we accomplished in our day, like the who, what, when, where, or why, I like to reflect on the growth of my kids and their relationships with each other.

TIPS

POCKET TIP #1: Write a letter for your journaling. When I am not sure what to write, I always turn to letter writing. I love jotting down my thoughts and feelings in this manner as it helps to focus what I want to say.

POCKET TIP #2: Make your pages work for you. I don't always feel the need to print or scrapbook every photo I take. When I take that pressure off of myself, it's easier to pick the best photo of my kids. Hint: I don't always choose a photo where both kids are looking at the camera. Sometimes it shows off their quirky personalities.

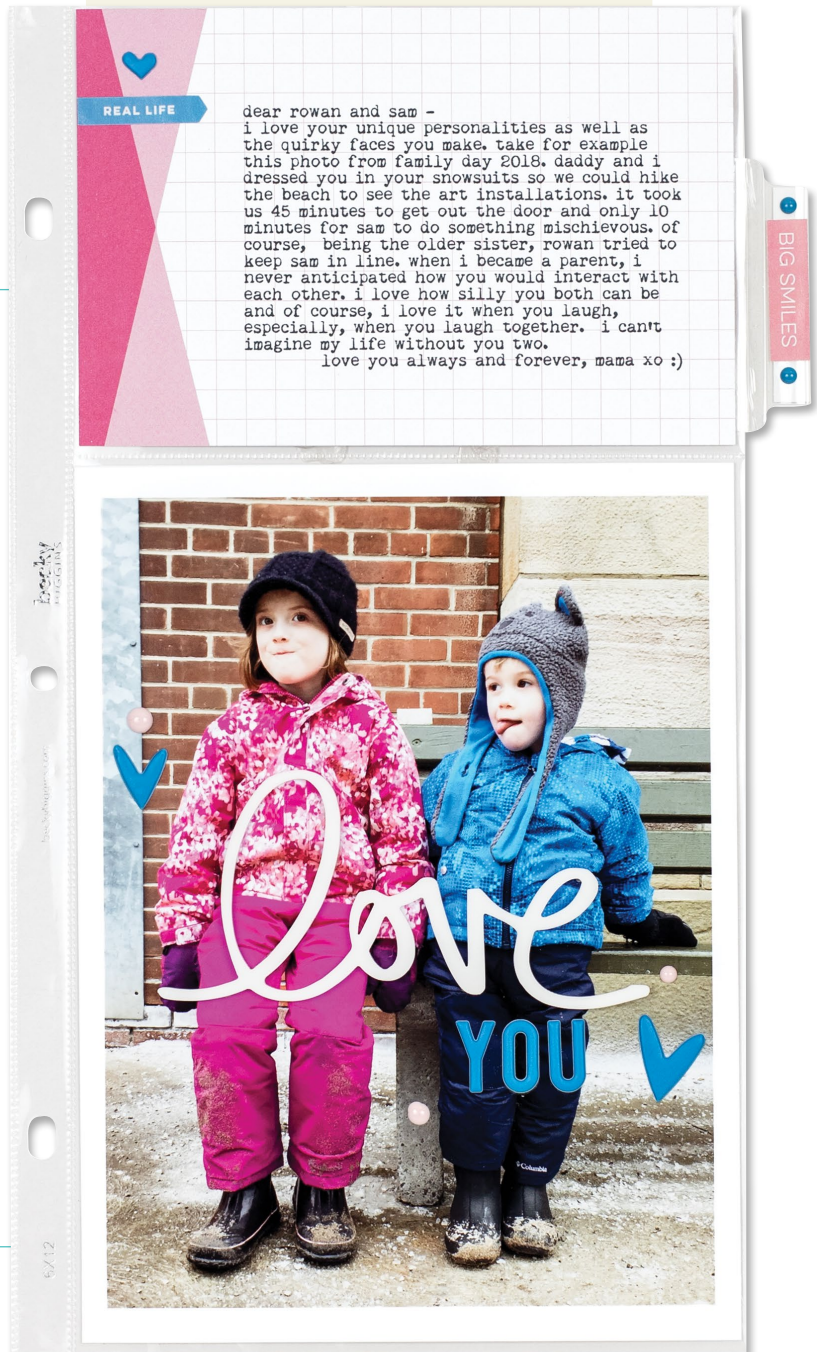

POCKET TIP #3: Embellish your photos. Don't forget to add lumps and bumps to your pages! Here I centered the acrylic word love to add dimension to my pocket page. Although this is a winter page with my kids in their snowsuits, the acrylic word reflects the feeling for the page and alludes to the broader story that is being told.

Find more creative inspiration from Jess at cheersjess.com

DESIGN TIP: Type directly onto your journal cards. Type up your journaling and print it out onto a sheet of plain paper. Adhere your card over the text with removable adhesive and run it through your printer a second time.

DESIGN TIP: Let your photos dictate your colour scheme. Look for embellishments that echo the colours of your photos. I found a few pink and blue elements to create a soothing visual harmony to my page.

crepe paper and fringe

Create touchable texture with crepe paper rosettes and fringe trim for a delightful result!

Jen's fresh colour combination gives this gorgeous layout of her daughter a youthful and trendy vibe. Add a jaunty striped ribbon on a tag for an even more tactile experience.

PRODUCT TIP: Have you tried fringe scissors? They make fringe cutting a snap! americancrafts.com

layout 2

DESIGN TIP: These sweet felt accents would be a fun addition to a gift box or bag, and they could even be cute décor in your craft room.

fun with felt

Feeling stitchy? Die cut some simple shapes like flowers and hearts to create adorable puffy felt accents for maximum texture. Stacy chose to add contrasting stitching to give her felt hearts and flower a definitively homemade-from-the-heart look.

DESIGN TIP: When die cutting felt, it helps to get a cleaner cut if you place a piece of computer paper or wax paper between the die and the cutting plate. Look for 100% wool felt for the cleanest cuts.

stitching, fringe, and modeling paste

One dominant title can say it all. Paige's layout begins with a cut file (which we're offering as a free download!), and since each word includes an o, it's a clever and logical way to include three photos! Around each letter, she's added tone-on-tone stitching, and each letter shines with a fringe effect. And look closely... Paige also included even more texture with modeling paste. Terrific touchability!

showcase three cuties

While Mendi's card isn't square like the sketch, you can totally see her inspiration. From the scalloped border at the top, to three images on tags, to a festive patterned paper at the bottom, Mendi made a super cute card design following our PageMap. You can always take the sketch literally and feature snowflakes, but therein lies the power of a sketch. Use the sketch as a starting point and see where it takes you!

be square (or don't!)

For 12 x 12 scrapbookers, a square is a comfortable space for creating, so try your hand at a square card! In Nicole's card on the right, she takes the sketch quite literally choosing to design in the square and adding holly leaves and banners like the PageMap suggested. Her second card definitely takes a hard left from the sketch, but you can still see where she's coming from. Though rectangular in shape, there's still a large festive focal point and a patterned paper margin. She also flipped the sketch on its side and the twine mimics the stitching in the sketch while the circles take the place of the banners. Well done, Nicole!

go classy or cute

Nina-Marie's two takes perfectly illustrate the endless possibilities of a PageMap—with just one sketch she was able to dream up one classy and one cute design! In her first card, she envisions lovely ornaments in place of the focal point mittens and draws your eye to the sentiment with a gorgeous red bow. Her second card flips the sketch left to right, and instead of one focal point image, she creates an adorable scene. The cute kids take center stage, while the little village tucked behind the pile of snow sits in the background.

DESIGN TIP: Instead of a fancy technique, pull out your patterned papers to add backgrounds with colour and pizzazz.

quick cards in two orientations

Sometimes time gets away from us, but we still want to create handmade cards to send to our friends and loved ones. Yasmin's two cards are the perfect answer to this dilemma! In her first card, she conforms to the sketch featuring three festive houses instead of stars on a bold patterned paper. The adorable stickers from Doodlebug Design made this design a snap! Her second card turns the design on its side and incorporates the same look in an elongated way. The focal point on the left and the sentiment to the right creates a balanced finished product. Super sweet and easy.

Distress Inks and Distress Oxides are a colourful and versatile medium. Let's see what all of the buzz is about!

Technique guru Jenn Shurkus joins us in this issue to unlock the mysteries of Distress Inks and Distress Oxides. Her tips and ideas will get your head spinning with fun ideas to make distress ink magic. She just might "Jennable" you into filling your cart with a rainbow of inks to experiment.

INKY TIP: The beauty of a watercoloured background is its one-of-a-kind result. Let the technique flow and see what sort of beauty you can create!

WATERCOLOUR AND INK BLEND

Create beautiful backgrounds with Distress Inks and Distress Oxides. Pull out your craft sheet, a paint brush, and a little water to achieve gorgeous watercolour looks.

INSTRUCTIONS:

- 1 Make card from cardstock.
- 2 Press Distress Ink onto a craft sheet, pick up colour with a wet brush, and paint background onto watercolour cardstock. Set aside to dry.
- 3 Trim watercolour cardstock into rectangle and blend Distress Oxides with blending tool.
- 4 Stamp images onto watercolour cardstock and emboss. Watercolour images with Distress Inks. Die cut images.
- 5 Die cut rectangle from glitter cardstock and trim into frame.
- 6 Stamp and die cut sentiments.
- 7 Using two colours of ink stamp and die cut snowflakes.
- 8 Add glitter to snowflakes, trees, and sentiment with glue pen.
- 9 Adhere blended rectangle to watercoloured background, adhere images and frame, and adhere sentiments and snowflakes. Adhere finished panel to card base.

INKY TIP: If you're dissatisfied with your first result, try again! It's only paper, right?

MULTICOLOUR INKING RESIST

Use your Distress Oxide inks on top of each other by heat embossing your images. Heat embossing your images creates a seal which allows you to ink in another colour over it without the beautiful images being tainted.

INKY TIP: Distress Oxides are very wet, so a powder tool is an important thing to have on hand while trying this technique.

INKY TIP: Add touches of darker ink in the same colour family around the edges of an image to achieve depth.

STAMPING AND INK SMOOSHING

Stamping with Distress Oxides creates a vivid effect and adding smoothed ink over it gives your design an artsy feel.

INSTRUCTIONS:

- 1 Make card from cardstock.
- 2 Stamp snowflakes over the entire background of a watercolour cardstock panel with Distress Oxide ink and immediately emboss with clear embossing powder.
- 3 Press Distress Ink onto a transparency, spritz with water, then turn the transparency over and press ink droplets all over the panel. Heat-set and repeat until desired look is achieved.
- 4 Die cut sentiment shadow from glitter cardstock. Die cut sentiment script from cardstock several times and adhere to each other for depth. Adhere script to shadow.
- 5 Add sequin to sentiment and adhere to watercolour panel with foam tape.
- 6 Adhere finished panel to card base.

design school

Grab your notebook and your backpack, because we're headed back to school—Design School!

h Have you ever stared at a project in process and wondered why it just didn't look "right?" It's likely that one of the rules of design will make it all come together.

In this issue we want to dive into the idea of Repetition. Repetition is an easy way to create balance; it's essentially glue in design. It holds designs together and gives them purpose. You'll want to jot down these superb ideas for using repetition in your layouts and cards! Let's take a look at some examples that will teach this rule:

layout 1

REPETITION OF COLOUR

Create balance with repetition in colours.

Take a look at the photos that you want to feature on a layout and pull out three hues. Lisa drew her charcoal, pale blue (in her son's shirt), and mint colour palette from her focal point images and used them as the basis for her layout. She found patterned papers to match and repeated them across the page and behind the photos for a well-balanced design. Her additional accents add to the repetition in colour as well!

add more sparkle

BY LISA DICKINSON

supplies CARDSTOCK: Bazzill Basics; PATTERNED PAPER, BUTTONS, CHIPBOARD, DIE CUT SHAPES, ENAMEL DOTS, STICKERS: Pinkfresh Studio; PUNCH: Fiskars; FONT: Bohemian Typewriter; ADHESIVE: American Crafts, Scrapbook Adhesives by 3L

DESIGN TIP: Why only three colours?

As we've learned in this column, three is a pleasing design number from visual triangles to the rule of thirds. Odd numbers as a whole are the best choice for design.

layout 2

REPETITION OF SHAPES

Create balance and movement with a flurry of snowflakes.

Repeating shapes is a great way to add balance and flow to a card design or layout. But how do you make it not look boring? Layer your repeated shapes, use different colours, add glitter cardstock and cute sayings and sweet little animals to add interest.

Speaking of snowflakes, check out our PageMaps article on pg. 30 to see a free snowflake cut file from Nicole Nowosad.

DESIGN TIP: Buttons, stitching, enamel dots, vellum, and felt are other awesome ways to vary and embellish your repeated shapes.

cards 1 & 2

REPETITION OF SENTIMENT

Make your sentiment (or title) the star of the show.

Use your stamp positioning tool to its full extent by repeating your sentiment all down one side of your design in various shades of green to create an ombre effect. Add a larger sentiment in a different colour over the repeated sentiment for a design with lots of moxie. Mat on neutral kraft and add sequins for sparkle and dimension.

DESIGN TIP: Instead of using ink colours all in one family, create a rainbow effect by stamping your repeated sentiment in ROYGBIV.

DESIGN TIP: Use this same concept for a title on a scrapbook layout.

season's greetings

BY ASHLEY TUCKER

supplies CARDSTOCK: Gina K. Designs, Neenah; STAMPS: My Favorite Things, Simon Says Stamp; INK: Lawn Fawn, Tsukineko; EMBOSSING POWDER: Ranger Industries; SEQUINS: Darice; ADHESIVE: 3M, Gina K. Designs

REPEATED SHAPE TO CREATE A NEW SHAPE

Build a new shape by repeating one shape. Ashley let her imagination soar as she used a triangle stencil to build a Christmas tree! The geometric shapes in varying hues of green build the perfect mod tree for this chic design. You'll note that the stump of the tree continues her shapely theme with a brown square. Incredibly clever, don't you agree?

DESIGN TIP: Draw your large shape lightly with pencil to determine the parameters of the shape, and then fill it in with repeated images. Try a circle with cute animals or a heart with a variety of repeated florals. Don't forget to erase the pencil lines once the large shape is filled to your liking.

How can I use my holiday papercrafting supplies to make Christmas even more special?

FESTIVE TIP: Get the kids involved with this one! Set them loose with patterned papers and circle punches so that they can flex their creative muscles with you. Listen to Christmas music or watch Christmas movies and spend happy quality time together.

holiday wreath

Anya's pretty paper wreath is perfect to give as a gift or to keep. Perhaps you love a paper collection so much you want to use it to decorate your home. Anya's wreath is a delightful way to gather goodies all in one spot! She started with sturdy chipboard paper to create the circular frame and then added patterned paper circles to give her wreath a colourful base. Add delicate die-cut snowflakes, cute die cut shapes, and coordinating enamel dots to add dimension.

DESIGN TIP: Take this idea into Valentine's Day with heart punches and patterned papers in pinks and reds. This could be a fun gift to give to your child's teacher on February 14th, especially if little hands help make it!

2 gift bag

Make your gift bags a gift all of their own!

Imagine the delight in the recipient's eyes as she is handed this pretty little thing created by Latisha. Who knows what's inside, but this bag is filled with holiday cheer. With the help of the Gift Bag Punch Board from We R Memory Keepers and some festive patterned paper, Latisha has made the gift-giving experience super special!

DESIGN TIP: Use letter stickers to spell out the name of the recipient for a fun personal touch!

DESIGN TIP: Make your gift bags stand out in the crowd with lots of ribbons and dimension and a riot of colours. Pile on the lovelies for all kinds of pizzazz.

FESTIVE TIP: Create

coordinating wine charms

that the hostess can keep long after the bottle is empty.

DESIGN TIP: Add even more handmade love with some machine stitching. It adds texture and the perfect finishing touch to tell your hostess how thankful you are for her hospitality.

3 wine wrap

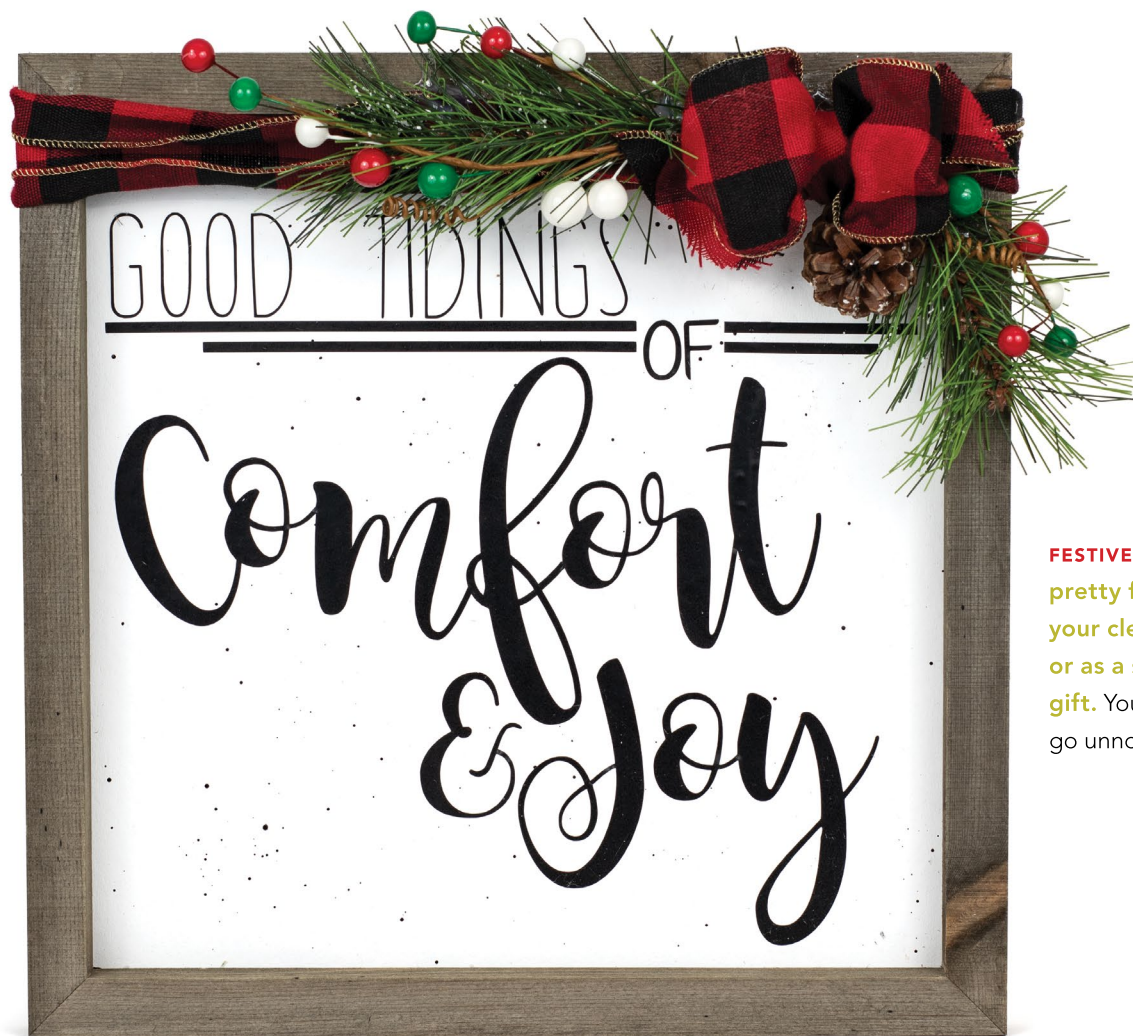

Head to the party in style with a festively wrapped bottle of wine or sparkling cider.

When it comes to the holidays, absolutely EVERYthing gets a bit of decoration, so why not spruce up your contribution to a party, whether it's a loaf of bread, a plate of cookies, or a bottle of wine to share? Add pretty details like scallops and sparkle to up the amp. It's just another way to bring some handmade cheer!

FESTIVE TIP: Give this pretty frame as a gift to your clergy, your boss, or as a secret Santa gift. Your creativity won't go unnoticed!

handmade gift

Nicole's festive frame would make a perfect gift for a hostess. Not only is it gorgeous, it's really quite simple to create, especially since Nicole is offering her printable as a free download. Print the file, find an appropriate frame, and dig into your holiday pick and ribbon stash for a quick and lovely gift!

DESIGN TIP: Wrap your gifts in plain papers and let the handmade tags steal the show or tie them onto kraft gift bags for simple, cute, quick, and easy gifts!

gift tags

Virginia created one-of-a-kind gift tags filled with holiday happiness. It's likely you'll have patterned paper scraps, bits of twine, and random stickers and die cut shapes that didn't make it onto your holiday cards, December Dailies, or scrapbook layouts. Use those leftovers to create pretty gift tags to give your gift-giving a homey touch.

FESTIVE TIP: Invite your best girlfriends over for a night of crafting even if they don't consider themselves creative! Tags are a relatively non-threatening way to start when it comes to papercrafting since they are a small canvas. And chances are she has plenty of holiday gifts to give, so she'll go away with something she can use when gift wrapping time rolls around.

Meghann's clear gift box allows the gift itself to be a part of the presentation. The Box Punch Board from We R Memory Keepers works with clear plastic sheets to create a crystal-clear box for gift-giving. Add colourful shred and a gorgeous ornament for an unforgettable keepsake.

FESTIVE TIP: These beautiful boxes would make the perfect favour for a company party, a holiday book club gathering, or church Christmas dinner.

DESIGN TIP: Layer it up on your tags since bulk won't be an issue and add some bells for a little bit of jolly jingle!

stocking gift card holder

Make a gift card extra special with a cute stocking like this one. Melissa has a knack for old world charm with a modern twist, and this sweet stocking is no exception. Look for pretty patterned papers for each section of the stocking and go BIG with those holly leaves for extra flair.

DESIGN TIP: Instead of a die cut bow, add silky ribbon for delicious texture.

DESIGN TIP: Personalize stockings with the recipient's name rather than Happy Holidays.

FESTIVE TIP: Strip this design down to a traditional looking red and white stocking and give gift cards to male friends or family members. They secretly love how crafty you are!

OUR FOCUS: CREATIVELY SHAPED CARDS

Squares and rectangles are classic, but it's fun to break outside of the box! Try your hand at the shaped card techniques we're sharing over the next three pages.

SHAPED CARDS

DESIGN TIPS:

- Two large die cuts can become a card base with a scoring tool and a little adhesive.
- Think about how the card will be displayed. You'll notice that Latisha trimmed the point of the heart so that it can stand on its own.

STEP-BY-STEP

- 1 Die cut two hearts from cardstock. To create card base, score one heart 1½ inches from the top, apply adhesive above score line, and adhere to other heart.
- 2 Die cut heart from patterned paper and adhere to card front.
- 3 Die cut smaller heart from patterned paper and adhere to card front with foam tape.
- 4 Die cut sentiment from cardstock four times, adhere die cuts together, then adhere to card.
- 5 Adhere die cut shapes to card with foam tape.
- 6 Carefully trim finished card at the point of the heart.

PICK UP TRUCK

- 1 To create shaped card base, score and fold panel of cardstock, and then die cut pickup positioning die so that the roof of the pickup is just above the fold.
- 2 Die cut wheels and pickup details and adhere. Adhere enamel dots to center of tires.
- 3 Die cut garland from white cardstock, colour with markers, and adhere to pickup.
- 4 Die cut oval from white cardstock. Stamp sentiment, sponge with ink, and adhere oval to pickup door.
- 5 Die cut tree from cardstock. Sponge with ink and embellish with enamel dots. Once dry, adhere to pickup.

DESIGN TIPS:

- Clever positioning of your dies can create cool card bases. By positioning the top of the pickup die above the fold of the cardstock, Betsy was able to create a cute shaped card lickety-split!
- Add delightful details with enamel dots and sponged ink.
- Use your markers! Betsy die cut the garland from white cardstock and added colours with markers.

FESTIVE TREES

- 1 To create shaped card base, score and fold panel of cardstock, and then die cut three large trees positioning die so that the point of the tree is just above the fold.
- 2 Die cut three large trees and one tree outline from watercolour paper.
- 3 Colour large trees with ink using blending tool and colour tree outline in a lighter shade.
- 4 Splatter white paint onto two of the trees; let dry.
- 5 Add dimensional glaze ornaments to third tree, let dry, and then adhere tree outline on top.
- 6 Die cut snowy hills and adhere to card base, leaving space to slide coloured trees into place.
- 7 Line up coloured trees to card base and adhere.
- 8 Stamp sentiment on card base and adhere sequins.

DESIGN TIP:

- Take smaller die cuts to new heights when it comes to shaped cards by using them in multiples and anchoring them. Barb used pretty snowbanks to connect her festive trees.

STAR OF DAVID

- 1 Die cut triangles from white cardstock. To create card base, score one triangle 1½ inches from the top, apply adhesive above score line, and adhere to other triangle.
- 2 Die cut two triangles from two shades of cardstock and die cut a smaller triangle in the middle of each to create a frame.
- 3 Adhere dark blue frame to card base.
- 4 Die cut vellum triangle using the second largest triangle, and adhere behind light blue triangle. Adhere to card.
- 5 Stamp menorah on cardstock with watermark ink and emboss.
- 6 Stamp and emboss flames. Colour with markers, die cut with coordinating dies, and add thin layer of dimensional glaze.
- 7 Stamp sentiment on black cardstock with watermark ink and emboss. Trim into strip.
- 8 Adhere menorah to card base. Adhere sentiment with foam tape.

DESIGN TIP:

- Think in basic shapes. The Star of David is two triangles coming together to create a new shape. Super simple to re-create with the right tools!

SNOW GLOBE

- 1 Die cut large circle from patterned paper.
- 2 Trim strip of cardstock; die cut strip with oval die to create rounded sides.
- 3 Trim narrow strip of cardstock and round each corner with corner rounder punch.
- 4 Layer circle and strips to create globe shape then trace shape on white cardstock twice, trim, and adhere together to create card base.
- 5 Adhere circle and strips to card base.
- 6 Die cut hills from cardstock and then die cut edges with circle to fit snow globe. Adhere hills to card base with foam tape.
- 7 Die cut houses, trees, and snowflakes from cardstock and patterned paper, and adhere to card, tucking some images behind hills.
- 8 Stamp sentiment on cardstock, adhere to card base and trim sides to match edges.
- 9 Wrap card front with twine, attach bells, and tie bow.

Things are part of life. Let's include them in our stories!

BY CATHY ZIELSKE

We tell a lot of heartfelt stories in our albums, but sometimes it feels kind of liberating to just document things. True, things is a huge category with many possibilities, but I would say it's the things in life that truly reflect who we are and how we experience the world. Here are a few ideas for documenting things.

layout 1

THINGS DENOTE ERAS

Things do a great job of marking moments in time. A car is definitely a thing that reflects the era in which it was made. In 20 years, this shiny new car of mine might seem like a relic from days past.

STORY TIP: Go deeper. It's not just a new car, it's the story behind why you had to get one! My husband and daughter hit a deer last summer and luckily, my old Subaru kept them safe. Most things have a story behind them. This new car represents an old car that did its job and kept my family safe.

DESIGN TIP: Repeat in threes. Note my three gatherings of purple things on this page: the title, the side tab, and the date banner. All three connect through colour, unifying the page design.

sign of the times

layout 2

LISTS OF THINGS

I love gathering random lists to include on a layout.

It's one of the simplest ways to document a slice of real life in a flash. Further, if you frame your things in the context of gratitude, the list will be done before you know it!

DESIGN TIP: Go for the grid.

Nothing is more reliable than a 9-image grid! Each square is the same size, making for an easy arrangement. All you do is vary the content. Mix photos, patterned paper, and embellishments for perfect symmetry.

JOURNALING TIP: Get

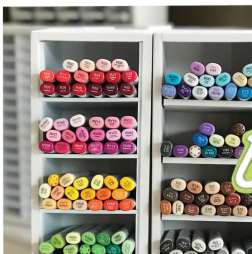

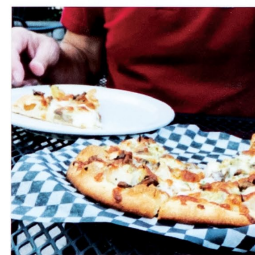

random. Create an entry of random things in a single paragraph, separating each snippet with either a bullet or a pipe (the vertical line that separates my entries). This allows you to write unconnected list items and no fancy writing is required. How easy is that? For added contrast, change the colour of the bullet or pipe.

make it mini

Set yourself up for success with a 2019 resolutions mini album! BY LAYLE KONCAR

Do you ever feel like you'll NEVER get caught up on your scrapbooking, and that you'll always be behind? Mini albums to the rescue! Mini albums have a beginning and an end and oftentimes seem more approachable—even more FINISHABLE—than scrapbook layouts. They're perfect for documenting big things like a birthday, wedding, or vacation when you'd have to create layout after layout. At the same time, they're great for capturing a bunch of little things—things you may not want to dedicate a full layout to. The pint-size nature, approachability, and finishability of mini albums make them one of my favourite ways to preserve memories.

MINI SIZE:

GETTING STARTED

One way to make a mini album fast and fun is to choose a premade album or binder. While you CAN create a mini album yourself, this avenue just makes things much simpler. A bright colour to fit your theme is a plus, and then you are ready to get down to some creative business!

✓ MAKE IT TIP: Skip the photos. Not every mini album needs to have photos, and since a resolutions album is about the future, it's perfectly fine to eliminate coming up with photos. And what a time saver! Just pick your product and get started.

✓ MAKE IT TIP: Pick pocket pages. For a super easy, approachable project, I love using pocket pages for mini albums. Just add cards and/or photos and decorate.

Get more creative ideas from Layle by following her on Instagram at instagram.com/laylekoncar

✓ MAKE IT TIP: Set the tone. Use the inside of the cover as a place to establish the theme of the album. 2019 is going to be a year of good vibes!

✓ MAKE IT TIP: Use stickers for bullet points. Jazz up your handwritten journaling with colourful stickers that serve as bullet points. Repeating the word "new" also creates continuity in my list.

✓ MAKE IT TIP: Keep it clear. Adhere elements to the tops of pocket pages versus sticking them inside for a creative peekaboo, see-through effect. This also adds a fun tactile feel to your album.

✓ MAKE IT TIP: Rely on quotes. Consider your resolutions for the year, and research some quotes to fit your list. Doing so will take the burden of journaling away, and you'll finish your album in record time. And now to keep those resolutions!

At first glance, this layout looks like a typical bunch of kids enjoying a wintry day, but as residents of Phoenix, AZ, Kim's desert-dwelling family found extra-special joy in their snow play! We love this happy and well-balanced double-page spread with lots of white space and five photos. The punches of pink give this layout lots of flair.

There's something so sweet about little girls dressed in red for Valentine's Day! Aimee's daughter is simply beaming in the photo on the left. Take the bones of this layout with two photos and a patterned paper rectangle in the middle as an effective sketch to mimic. Aimee's paint splatches and riot of hearts makes this a delightful design!

Brrrrr is our initial reaction to Ronda's layout, and rightfully so. As a resident of Yellowknife, Northwest Territories, she doesn't shrink from winter's mighty blast. The patterned paper for her background masterfully conveys the theme of her layout, and the photos of bundled up humans show just how cold it gets and just how hearty Canadians are! We love all of the purples and pinks she chose and the glistening touches of gold.

It's time to get your twinkle on as merry strands of Christmas lights shine in the dark winter nights. Jill's adorable card is filled with happy holiday cheer. We love how each bulb is coloured to look as if it is glowing. Hopefully you have a tangle-free Christmas lights kind of year!

Santa hat photos are always a blast, especially when they result in funny faces. Kylie highlighted three of her favourites of her son in this jolly layout with traditional Christmas colours and a super cute stocking cut file. The block letters she used to create the title add to the joy of the layout as each letter is a different festive pattern, and the plaid mat makes the perfect frame.

Realistic and beautifully coloured holly berries and leaves make Karen's card a standout. We love the subtle white on kraft sentiment and the one die cut holly spring framing the right-hand side of the sentiment. Loads of sequins add spectacular sparkle for that distinctive holiday touch.

There are so many things to love about this layout by Iris! For starters, her pie chart design gives this layout lots of panache with five expertly chosen photos to fit each piece and two sections for your eye to rest with cheerful patterned papers. The final section allows for a list that serves as journaling. And that stitched title around the perimeter? Just WOW!

You can almost catch a whiff of the Christmas pine on this jubilant card design from Miriam! We love her two-toned pine branches that create lots of depth and the complementary red sentiment that imparts the true joy of the season.

Odessa's vibrant pocket page spread oozes with wintry fun, and her addition of vibrant green makes this quirky layout incredibly eye-catching! The large photo on the left makes a wonderful statement as the overhead structure frames the people walking along the snow-covered path. The apex of the path covering is the perfect spot for her title.

Aqua and pink for a Christmas card? Yes, please! We love all of the details Mona added—from the stitched snowbanks to the white pines silhouetted against the aqua-striped sky to the scalloped border framing the whole scene. And those sketchy green trees are perfection.

Here's a fun tip—take photos of your best little guy (or girl!) in two different outfits that complement one another. Grace shares six photos of her son on this sweet double-page spread, and the blue plaid and blue t-shirt tie everything together flawlessly. The elements in this design are thoughtfully placed as the eye travels from the camera to the red sentiment at the top and back down to the title. Very inspiring, Grace!

One word for Janette's Christmas card design—magnificent!

The snowy white woodgrain and Christmas tree silhouette create a sense of calm and wonder, and the beautiful ink-blending gives depth to help the tree stand out. Add a majestic ombre polka-dotted deer with a trail of red reins behind, and you've got a little piece of magic.

The cute factor of Lydia's layout hits a 10.5 on a scale of 10!

Cute girls, lots of pink, stitching, and bows make this design a winner to begin with. But the pie pieces and mix of fun, funky, and basic patterned papers take this layout to the next level. The felt pennants and little black hearts are fantastic details to finish it off.

Six silly selfies in photo booth strips set the tone for Nicole's super sweet layout about her son. Since this layout is coming from mom's heart, all of the pink, flowers, hearts, and gingham feel totally appropriate. The graph patterned paper is a super smart way to give her layout a little less feminine feel, and it's the perfect way to keep your handwritten journaling straight!

We simply ADORE this sweet Valentine's Day-themed layout by Marcia. The black and white photo of her and her hubby shows that even after all these years there's still a spark! The big pink heart cut file with the title along the edge is a sweet frame for the photo, and all of the glorious details tucked behind like a heart-studded quilt make this layout incredibly special. And did you notice the two lovebirds? How cute!

The joy of the season is evident in this festive and fun Christmas card featuring unconventional colours and a unique size! Elodie used jaunty strips of washi tape to anchor her pretty stars cascading down the front of the design. Golden letter stickers spell out the simple sentiment and sequins and ink splotches add an artistic flair.

The holidays have a tendency to fill up our hearts AND our camera rolls. Jennifer chronicles Christmas 2017 in one double-page spread with thirteen photos, from what they ate and drank to the super cold weather to a shot of the family dog conducting business on someone's laptop! The grid design she chose packs a lot into the top portion of the layout, but the "white" space at the bottom gives the eyes a place to rest.

Grab the selfie stick and capture the whole family in their ugly sweaters and Christmas jammies this year. The resulting photo will be a precious memory for decades to come! We love how Tracey placed the meat of the layout on a colourful rectangle in the center of the layout, and the sprinkling of hearts furthers the theme of her love for this festive crew.

Monique celebrates her Valentine Patrick in this sunny and love-infused layout.

While the photo was taken on a summer's day, this layout is February 14th-appropriate with all of the hearts and lovey-dovey sentiments. Yellow isn't what you'd usually expect for this decidedly red-and-pink holiday, but it works so well, don't you think?

Sixteen-year old Maryám's layout is filled with youthful fun! We love how the stitched snowbanks at the bottom create a foundation for the magical forest she imagined with whimsical trees, snowflake stickers, and wintry images floating in the snowy sky. The cute polka dotted paper behind the photo is a sweet touch, too.

We tend to think blue, aqua, and lavender when it comes to winter layouts, but Jen's pretty design has us thinking otherwise! The minty cool snowflake patterned paper works so well with the colour of Jen's daughter's winter coat, and the pops of orange from her hat and the little birdie are bright spots against the snow. Did you notice how all of the photos and the title are circular in shape? It almost appears that they are floating in a sky full of snowflakes. And that little splash of colour beneath the journaling is EVERYTHING.

Winter Blues
away!

www.pinkandmain.com

with love...

A creative sendoff to keep you inspired until we meet again.

As the sky fills with flurries, think of each snowflake as a kiss and welcome a blizzard full of love! Create wintry magic like Marcia did by fashioning a dimensional and detailed design like this delightful pop-up to decorate your desk or dining room table. Better yet, share it with a friend to enjoy and to be reminded of your thoughtfulness.

DESIGN TIP: While the row of houses in Marcia's design are the traditional red and green of Christmas, her addition of aqua adds a snowy splendor that accentuates the snowflakes. Have fun with colour!

DESIGN TIP: Eliminate the Happy Holidays sticker for a purely winter design.
